DREAM POEM

by

Roger McGaugh

In a corner of my bedroom grew a happy tree
a happy tree
my own tree

It's leaves were soft like flesh
and it's birds sang poems for me then without warning two men with understanding smiles

an axes
made out of forged excuses came and chopped it down either yesterday
or the day before
I think it was the day before.

JUST DREAMS

Dreams aren't just your imagination and there are those, I suppose, who don't believe it.

"The best part of a dream is when it comes true."

Lee Sherry

DREAMS

author

Langston Hughs

Hold fast to dreams
for if dreams die
life is a broken winged bird that cannot fly.

Hold fast to dreams
for if dreams go
Life is a barren field frozen with snow.

"Dream what you dare to dream. Go where you want to go. Be what you want to be LIVE."

Jonathan Livingston Seagull

"Dreams"

This year our year book is dedicated not to one, but to the dreams, hopes, and wishes of the 8th graders of '87 and the others long to come.

Our dreams were not really dreams at first, but a little voice that was kept at the back of our minds. As the years went on that voice became our secret hopes and wishes.

Finally they became our dreams, dreams to be shared with the world. For some it would just stay a dream.

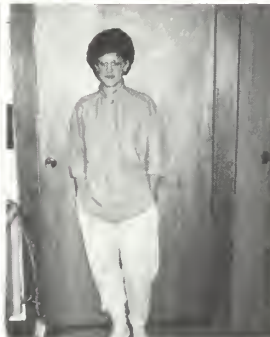

But for others, the fortunate ones, that special dream would become their destiny.

Epilogue...

Dreams are forever not for a day,
If they are special they will forever stay.
Now as we look back on our memorable years,
Our future endeavors closely nears.

As we take a look at all the good times we've had,
Some were happy and some were sad.
Friends have come and some have gone,
Like cold frost on a winter green lawn.
Now we leave and close yet another door,
We now choose a future and a little bit more.

Matt Lemieux

We say "Good-bye"
"Good-bye" with no pain.
Till some happy day
